“Working with leaders, teams, and individuals has allowed me to see the unique value each person brings to the many parts of their life. Being aware of this puts me in a state of awe and wonder when it comes to all the people I haven’t met—what amazing things we can accomplish and what opportunity is available for us to do so, as long as we allow ourselves to realize it. Do you know what unique value you have to bring to this world? Do you know what could be preventing you from providing more value than you thought you could? I can help you figure that out.”

With a background in education, Megan Brummel has always believed in the value and power of personal growth, development, and self-awareness. She leads with a growth mindset. This belief led her to take the leap out of education and into the business world to apply and focus on just that.

In 2019, Megan joined Leadership Outfitters, an executive coaching company, to manage client services, allowing her to get involved in the world of coaching. Since Insights Discovery Personal Profiles were used in all coaching engagements at Leadership Outfitters, Megan immersed herself in over 40 sessions, both virtual and in-person, to learn how to apply this tool to leadership effectiveness. Building on this involvement, Megan became an Accredited Insights Discovery Practitioner in April 2021 which led to becoming the Director of Insights at Leadership Outfitters where she not only began facilitating her own sessions but provided aid and counsel to other Insights Discovery Client Practitioners in preparing for their sessions. All of this led to Megan’s purchase of the Insights Discovery Distributorship from Leadership Outfitters to operate under her own business, Wayfinders Leadership in 2023.

Her passion is evident in the 80-plus sessions she has facilitated since her accreditation. She uses the Insights Discovery tool to inspire leaders and their teams by identifying the transformative power that lies behind our behavioral preferences.

In 2022, Megan completed the Newfield Network’s Coaching for Personal and Professional Mastery program in November 2022, has received her Newfield Coaching Credential, and is an ACC-accredited coach with the International Coaching Federation. Megan used her coaching experience and knowledge to enhance her coaching and training programs.

Megan is a student of personal and leadership effectiveness. She has consistently applied this knowledge to her own personal growth and behavioral change, enabling her to offer authentic experiences and stories to clients in her coaching programs. She sits on the board for Bozeman Professional Women, is a trainer for Prospera Business Network, and serves in her church as a Leadership Team member and as a volunteer with the High School youth group. Her mission in life? To live a joy-filled and meaningful life and to help others do the same (in and out of the professional realm!).

Megan resides in Livingston, Montana outside the Paradise Valley where she and her husband enjoy hiking and camping with their dog, Greta.
